

August 2007

Equivalent courses at the University of St. Francis cannot be repeated for credit. It is the students responsibility to refer to the University catalog or (website) for a list of equivalent courses prior to registration.

The following courses are considered equivalent courses. Once you have taken one of them, you may not take the others listed with it for credit.

Brain-based Learning

EDLS 665- Brain-based Ways We Think and Learn (PLS course)
EDLS 667- The Power of Brain Compatible Learning: Translating Research
EDLS 671- Impacting Teaching and Learning with Brain Research

Differentiated Instruction

EDLS 616- The Differentiated Classroom
EDLS 663- Differentiated Instruction for Today's Classroom (PLS course)

Multiple Intelligences

EDLS 661- Purposeful Learning through Multiple Intelligences (PLS course)
EDLS 662- More Chances to Learn

Productive Learning

EDLS 673- Accommodating Diverse Learning Styles
EDLS 675- Teaching through Learning Channels (PLS course)

Technology

EDLS 635- Integrating Technology into the Classroom
EDLS 654- Building Your Technology Education and Skills (PLS course)

Technology

EDLS 625- Advanced Internet Applications: Improving Teaching and Learning
EDLS 655- Building Online Collaborative Environments (PLS course)

Successful Teaching

EDLS 620- Best Practices in Mentoring: No Colleague Left Behind
EDLS 691- Coaching Skills for Successful Teaching (PLS course)